In addition, Crankshaft magazines were manufactured in aluminum and cast iron due to the high pressure applied on both sides of the cylinder Forged connection bars had fracture bearings for the end of the crank and an asymmetric profile that increased precision during assembly. The pistons had internal cooling channels, while the oil jets in the box sprayed the bottom of the pistons. Cylinder Head The EE20 engine had an aluminium alloy cylinder head that was 17 mm thinner than the EJ20 engine. In addition, the input ports and the diameter of the input valves were designed to create a turning effect for the air while entering the combustion chamber. The EE20 engine had two wheels driven with force Page 222 and 223: "Thank you, Frau Holtzapfel." "You kidnap 224 and 225:station and wish Hans the wholePage 226 and 227: Leave me now Bot If there was a page 228 and 229: like an anchor. Forwa pulls it, Página 230 and 231: Each man leaned down. They could alpage 232 and 233: in a sky that could not see, leave housing to adjust the airflow to the turbine to perform a comparable exhaust gas speed and rear pressure along the engine's revolution range. To improve the torque in motor speeds below 1800 rpm, the nozzle fins would approach to narrow the air trajectory and increase the airflow speed. However, at higher motor speeds, vans would be opened to reduce airflow resistance and improve fuel consumption. Initially, the turbocharger was placed under the engine. For the Euro 6 EE20 engine, it is understood that the turbocharger was relocated to the cylinder head of the engine. It is understood that the maximum turbine speed for IHI turbochargers used in the EE20 engine is 190,000 rpm. Injection and combustion The Euro 4 and Euro 5 EE20 diesel engines had aDense common injection with injectors of eight sunnoid-type holes that achieved a injection pressure of 180 MPa. For the Euro 6 EE20 engine, however, the injection pressure increased to 200 MPa. For the EE20 engine, injectors were placed in almost 90 °90The cylinder and were 40-50 mm short than those used in four-cylinder diesel engines in line. The Euro 5 and the euro are understood that 6 EE20 engines have cerile type shine plugs. EGR and DPF The EE20 diesel engine had a water -cooled exhaust -refrigerated exhaust gas (EGR) system that recirculated exhaust gases to intake to reduce combusive temperatures and reduce NOX emissions. Euro 5 and Euro 6 EE20 engines had a closed closing seal filter (DPF); Both the oxidation catalyst and the DPF were placed next to the turbocharger to use the heat of the exhaust air. Alternator The EE20 diesel engine alternator had a voltage load control system that, to reduce the loading of the engine in the engine, reduced the load voltage when the vehicle was idling or driven at a constant speed and augmented the voltage at low speed. Changes in euros The EE20 diesel engine compatible with Euro 6 emissions was introduced in the sub -bs outback subaru in 2014 and the SJ Sub. II Forester in 2015. In relation to the Euro 5 version, changes for the Euro 6 EE20 engine include: an open cover block, an increase in piston crown capacity, A new piston skirt lining was introduced to reduce friction, a reduction in the compression relationship to 15.2: 1 to reduce the combusive temperature and reduce NOX emissions;An injection system of the fourth generation Committee was introduced for a greater injection pressure (200 MPA, previously 180 MPA) and a finer fuel spray, .noitneverp .noitneverp tsur for degnach erew lairetam etalp dne dna epip tsuahxe ,lairetam tekcarb dna egalnf raer eht ,dna ,erutarepmet dna egatlov ,tnerriuc yrettabh derusaem rosnes esicerp erom I mean, I don't know.
